In this assignment, you'll build and deploy your resume/CV in HTML.

your Web page should be structured semantically using proper tags and indentation levels.

The Main Header

1. Create a `header` with a big ol' `h1` stating your name and target career.
2. Add an `address` tag with your address
3. Add an anchor tag with your email and an `href` with a `mailto:your@email.here`
4. Add an `hr` tag below to give your header a nice big underline for emphasis!

Career Goals

1. Create a new "Career Goals" `section` below your header and give it a heading
2. Add a paragraph stating your professional goals and main objective

Listing Skills

1. Create a new "Skills" `section` below the last
2. Create a list under each of the following sub-headings stating your skills related to that category:
     1. Programming Languages
     2. Databases
     3. Platforms
     4. Version Control
     5. Operating Systems
     6. Other Tools
     7. Soft Skills

Work Experience

1. Create a new "Work Experience" `section` under the last
2. Create a table with proper table headings and a table body with rows and cells for each of the following:
     1. Time (Years worked at that job)
     2. Name (Name of the company)
     3. Location (City, State, Country if not USA)
     4. Position Title
     5. Responsibilities
     6. Contact Info (Phone number and name of employee)

Education

1. Create a new "Education" `section` under the last
2. Create a table with proper table headings and a table body with rows and cells for each of the following:

1. Time (Years spent at this school)
2. School (Name of the school)
3. Location (City, State, Country if not USA)
4. Major/Degree Earned
5. Minor

Achievements

1. Create a new "Achievements" `section` under the last
2. Create a list of rewards or achievements that you've earned or accomplished. Include the year of the achievement or award and any other relevant information about it

Hobbies and Interests

1. Create a new "Hobbies and Interests" `section` under the last
2. Create a list of hobbies and interests that you enjoy. They should be current, but you may include past interests and activities as well. Try to think of what makes you unique.

References

1. Create a new "References" `section`
2. You may choose to create a table here of references. Because you'll be posting this on the internet it is usually a good idea to label this with Available upon request.